

Henwood Court's Favourite Holiday Destinations

For Yvonne, it would be Iceland; she says "Iceland – the most amazing scenery, glaciers I have ever seen. Even saw the northern lights, brought tears to my eyes. Black beach is something else and a must visit along with the Blue Lagoon. Visited for my sister in laws 50th birthday in February 2017 with 10 other members of family and friends, northern lights appeared on the evening of her birthday, so very special".

Jason's favourite place to visit this year was "Wild Luxury - The Norfolk Glamping Company, Thornham Bay, North Norfolk". Jason visited here as a family at the beginning of November and says "for our first taste of modern camping with a twist that it was without all of the modern conveniences of electricity and access to the world wide web. It was fascinating to see how quickly and easily the girls adapted to the lack of tablets and iPhones and the real enjoyment we all got from enjoying some of the more simple things in life in a gorgeous part of the UK."

Lenea had no hesitation to say “New York; New York!!” with her partner Ash. Of the many places to visit, Lenea highlighted “1) definitely Ground Zero, 2) Radio City Hall and 3) Maddison Square gardens (mainly these last two places as I’m so into music!) oh....and not forgetting seeing a show on Broadway.” “Exciting place, fast paced, and an amazing experience! A place everyone should visit at least once! So good to actually see the places that I had only ever before seen on the TV and now I can say “I’ve been there / I’ve seen that.”

Lynette and her family took their annual (sometimes biannual) trip to Tenby in Pembrokeshire. “When the sun shines (and it’s Wales so it doesn’t always!) there is no place better to be. Countless beautiful beaches and a coastal path that is a National Park. We visited 10 different beaches in 7 days and walked for miles, definitely our favourite place to be.”

Helen's favourite holiday destination is Greece and this year, having previously visited many of the islands she, her husband and his 17-year-old daughter spent a fortnight in a villa on the outskirts of Methoni, a traditional Greek resort on the Peloponnese. "If you're looking for a beach with calm seas, traditional tavernas, an impressive Venetian castle to visit and no karaoke bars or burger bars then this is a place for you. The only slight downside was our complete lack of fluency in Greek! When you get a flat tyre on your hire car, getting it fixed at the local garage was a challenge!" Helen however would prefer not to spread the recommendation too far and wide as she's afraid what has become one of her most favourite Greek holiday destinations might become too popular and commercialised!

We hope that we may have given you some inspiration for next year's holiday; don't forget to send us a postcard from your trip!
